

Thank you for ensuring that our Matan Institute conference ended with a bang! My only complaint is that we didn't meet you sooner! So glad that we were introduced. You are OUTSTANDING!
~ The Matan Institute

Just got home from attending your presentation and I must say you were amazing! Your energy, passion and love of what you do was truly present today. Our employees are still raving about how great you were!
- Jamilia Pegram, Amscan, Inc.

www.facebook.com/orderoutofchaos

www.youtube.com/orderoochaos

Award-winning Author & International Speaker Innovates, Motivates, and Inspires!

A respected expert on chronic disorganization and time management issues, Leslie Josel is a media favorite, appearing on many episodes of TLC's hit television show "Hoarding: Buried Alive", the Cooking Channel's "Stuffed: Food Hoarders", and the Hallmark Channel's "The Better Show" as their organizing expert.

With her energy, engaging wit and compelling delivery, Leslie has won over audiences from coast-to-coast. Known for her content-rich and interactive presentations, she uses her "Tales from the Trenches" and trademark "Triple T's" (tips, tools and techniques), to untangle such complex and emotionally-charged subjects as Kicking Procrastination to the Curb and Living in a "Clutter Culture" to name a few. Leslie has conducted workshops internationally for many businesses and organizations, including Morgan Stanley, Cornell University, the American Association of Diabetes Educators, and Amscan, Inc.

For Leslie's full list of speaking topics for businesses & organizations, please visit: orderoochaos.com

Living in the Clutter Culture

Leslie will reveal how much our clutter is costing us, the effect it has on us emotionally and physically, and how organizing and managing our stuff has grown into a billion dollar industry. She will challenge the members of your group to address their attachment to their belongings while providing them with tips, tools and techniques for letting go, scaling back, and making sure that their stuff truly matters.

It's About Time: Systems & Strategies for Conquering What Gets in Our Way

Time is one of our most precious resources. Yet we battle daily to make the best use of it. In this workshop, Leslie will address how to maximize your productivity while learning to pinpoint where you need to take control. In addition, group members will create their own "Personal Time Profile" to use to improve focus and performance when juggling projects and priorities. You'll also learn how to identify time robbers and how to eliminate them. Using case studies, Leslie will discuss the difference between time management and motivation management and tips for avoiding interruptions.

Kick Procrastination to the Curb: Tools to Get You Unstuck and Started!

Leslie will delve deep into the different types of procrastination; how "mood" is one of the leading causes of procrastination and how techniques like "time travel" and "define and assign" can help you get unstuck and started. She will share real solutions and strategies to help your group initiate, sustain effort and use their environment for motivation.

Book Leslie for Your Next Event! info@orderoochaos.com 914-420-6643

Leslie is the founder of Order Out of Chaos, a consulting firm specializing in chronic disorganization. She is an award winning author, international speaker and an award-winning entrepreneur. Leslie brings more than a decade's worth of professional experience in working one-on-one with her clients to her speaking engagements.

Leslie brought "Order Out of Chaos" to life from a very personal mission. She is the mother of a time-challenged teen with Attention Deficit Disorder. Leslie founded her company with the goal of providing professional time management and coaching services; family education and resources. Her educational products and books are created for individuals to help bring "order out of chaos" to their lives.